However, you do not have the right to data portability referred to in Article 20 of the GDPR.

8. Profiling and automated decision-making

We do not use automated decision-making in individual cases with regard to your personal data, including profiling in accordance with Articles 20 and 22 of the GDPR.

9. Source of data origin

Your personal data has been obtained directly from you or from an entity that you represent or cooperate with.

10. Information on voluntariness or obligation to provide data

Providing personal data is voluntary. If such data are necessary for the consideration and implementation of a request for access to public information, failure to provide them may prevent or hinder the handling of the case, conducting correspondence and responding to the request.

11. Information about the intention to transfer personal data to a recipient in a third country or international organisation and about the determination or absence of an adequate level of protection by the European Commission or in the case of a transfer referred to in Article 46, Article 47 or Article 49(1), second subparagraph, GDPR

We do not currently transfer or plan to transfer personal data to third countries (outside the EEA) or international organizations. Exceptions are the use of Microsoft 365 and Active Directory software, which involves storing data in the cloud within the Microsoft 365 tenant structure and may result in data being transferred outside the EEA. However, Microsoft guarantees the highest standards of security and privacy protection, as confirmed by independent audits and ISO/IEC 27001 and ISO 27018 certifications, guaranteeing compliance with international standards and assurance that your data in the cloud and within the tenant will not be used for marketing purposes.
